Shoots Drunken Man Who Disturbs Home

Goodman Puts Load of Squirrel Shot in Don, Who was Breaking Windows and Attempting to Enter House.

On Thursday afternoon, south of town at the Henry Nichols place Allen Goodman, a young man shot and seriously wounded a man by the name of Don Don, so it is reported was drinking, and came to the Goodman home to renew an old quarrel. He had broken some of the lights from the windows when young Goodman went to a near by house and borrowed a gun. He shot Don in the right breast and some of the shot were lodged against the skin in the back. His condition is serious but he has some chances of recovery.

J L Murray left today for Thomasville where he will visit friends and relatives.

T H Crawford made a business trip to Pinckard this afternoon.

CURIOUS NAMES OF INNS

Germany probably holds the record for out of the way inn names. Berlin alone can boast the Angry Louise, the Comfortable Lamb, the Cold Frog, the Dirty Parlor, the Bloody Bones, the Boxers Den, the Four Hundred Weight Man, and the Musical Cats, whilst a surburban landlord whose house stands near a cemetery and is a popular pull up for mourners has dubbed it very appropriately the Last Tear.—Boston Transcript.

ANOTHER ODD NAME

Having read a list of curious names borne by German inns which appeared in this department yesterday copied from the Boston Transcript a friend in the reportorial department informs us that there is a restaurant in Dothan Ala which is called The Greasy Dog. Perhaps our specialty at that particular place is hot dogs freshly larded.—Birmingham Age Herald.

WIFE OF HAWLEY HEIR IS RELEASED

New York Feb 9 Frederick Crandall wife of the castoff nephew of Edwin Hawley who may inherit $3 000 000 from the estate of the deceased millionaire was released today after serving a term for disorderly conduct and malicious mischief. Mrs Crandall was sent to prison for smashing down a door in a tenement house on January 20.

Mrs Crandall had been apprised of her husband's good fortune before she left the Island and was in a happy frame of mind when she reached New York. Her two children are in Chatham N Y where they were sent to be cared for until their mother was released from prison.

It was Crandall's courtship of a wife while she was Alice McManus a telegraph operator that led to the break between Mr Hawley and his nephew.

CITY IMPROVEMENT CLUB HOLDS RALLY

The City Improvement Club Rally on yesterday afternoon was a great success. The street parade by the school children was an enjoyable feature of the exercises. The line of march under the direction of Mrs A D Whiddon, Miss Ansley, Miss Knowles and Miss Naugher was formed at the grammar school and from there the children armed with brooms, rakes, dust pans and flags proceeded down St Andrews street to the Houston National bank corner, then down Main street to Foster and then by the way of postoffice to the new high school where an appreciative audience had preceded them.

Dainty little programs, the work of the pupils in grades two and three were distributed by Miss Estelle Green and the meeting was formally opened by the Reverend Mr Rogers who offered the invocation.

In her own charming way Mrs Ellison told the object of the meeting, gave a brief resume of the work, spoke simply and clearly of the policy of the club in the past and for the present and presented the speakers in a few well chosen words.

Col Hill's address on "What women are doing in the civic work" in which the gifted speaker paid rare tributes to women in their proper sphere was pleasingly delivered and gave evidence of a thorough knowledge of the subject.

Dr Davie who is claimed as an honorary member of the City Improvement Club was as he always is master of his theme. On this occasion he spoke on the sanitary conditions of the city and gave the [illegible] of many of the evils we now endure [illegible]. He urged the cultivation of the right spirit toward those who point out to our municipal short comings and the proper reception of the [illegible] offered.

The [illegible] and [illegible] the children [illegible] with hearty applause. Too much praise cannot be given to the teachers who had this part of the program in charge.

The officers of the City Improvement Club take this opportunity to thank all who so kindly assisted in making this a successful occasion; to Colonel Hill and Dr Davie for their delightful and instructive addresses, to Miss Ansley, Miss Knowles and Miss Naugher for their care and patience in training the pupils, to the dear little children themselves and to Prof Brown for his generosity in allowing the use of the auditorium the officers send a full measure of appreciation.

LAYMEN'S MEETING GREATEST IN HISTORY

Mr O R Morgan of the First Presbyterian Church Dothan returned yesterday after a week's attendance at the Laymen's Convention of the Southern Presbyterian Church Chattanooga Tenn and reports the largest attendance in the history of the church as well as far exceeding any convention of its kind in history. Between three and four thousand Delegates registered, representing almost every church throughout the Southern Church and the Convention Hall of Chattanooga noted for its large seating capacity and the city as the great Southern Convention city was filled with laymen.

The program was covered in every detail of the Missionary work of the Home and Foreign field. Representatives fresh from the field were in attendance bringing thrilling messages and the ablest men in the homeland with strongest addresses.

More than 50 volunteers offered for the work in Korea and Africa and following this a spontaneous offering of more than $10 000 in cash to carry them to the front. The great climax was reached when J Campbell White made the statement that nothing in the history of [illegible] or any other church within [illegible] knowledge [illegible] brought to [illegible] any Convention for the Evangelization of the world in this generation.

GOOD MEETING OF IMPROVEMENT CLUB

The meeting of the City Improvement club held yesterday afternoon in the high school building was enjoyed by quite a number of people and much pride in the city beautiful was aroused. The childrens parade through the down town district was watched with interest by the busy [illegible] the [illegible] bers of the club [illegible] [illegible] through [illegible] with brooms and [illegible] of a [illegible].

An interesting program was carried out [illegible].

A Warning Against Wet Feet

Wet and colded feet usually affect the mucous membrane of the nose throat and lungs and la grippe bronchitis or pneumonia may result. Watch carefully particularly the children and for the racking stubborn coughs give Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. It soothes the inflamed membranes and heals the cough quickly. Take no substitute. Probably if the everglades of Florida get into politics no ditching will begin for many years yet.

Justice overtakes on at times, for New York Harry, who was doing a stunt in the pen for five years, comes out to be tried for murder.

Somebody is starting a story wanting to Underwood money. No one so far as we had heard. Didn't know he was spending any money, or any of his friends.

Every little while somebody finds Timothy Arnold, but when the papers have had their say, it turns out that quite another party was found, in fact, one that they were not hunting for.

When the sleuths of the United States government get up with their work, they go over to St. Louis, and make a case against E. G. Lewis, the publisher, and they have something for the dull days.

Even some of the stronger republican papers are admitting that Wilson came out of the Harvey-Watterson controversy stronger than when he went in.

It is given out, on apparently good authority that Morse is pleased to return to New York. He probably would have stayed there some years ago, had he been given the chance, and avoided spending so much time in the south.

The only garden seed that were very indiscreetly distributed from the government were a lot sent out to parties in Tennessee the other day. When the sack hit the platform at a small station, it burst open, and the sparrows of the neighborhood ate them all up.

Up in Boston a woman was poisoned by eating lobsters, and another broke a tooth against a nail when she bit into a piece of bread. Both promptly brought suit, and if there had been a breach of promise somewhere. To the people who don't live in Boston this is news. We thought that if any of them got crippled from biting anything, that it would be some kind of a bean.

The cheering news comes that are Morse, late of the Atlanta federal prison, is improving fast physically. Some thought that he would never live long enough to start making another fortune, but it seems that the surgeons of the army who brought his age was a bad one, will have to attribute his remarkable recovery to the fresh air on the outside of the prison.

A HOME RECIPE FOR REMOVING WRINKLES.

Who will blame the modern woman for trying to look as young and attractive as she reasonably can? Why should she be placed at a disadvantage in numerous ways by wearing wrinkles, if she can avoid these hateful marks of advancing age?

Few women, however, know what to do to effectually rid themselves of wrinkles or sagginess. None of the advertised preparations is satisfactory and most of them are very expensive. But a very simple and harmless home remedy, which any woman can make, will work wonders where all the patent preparations fail.

Buy an ounce of powdered saxolite at any drug store. Dissolve the whole ounce in a half pint of witch hazel and use it as a wash lotion. The results are practically instantaneous. Marked improvement is noticed immediately after the very first trial. Wrinkles and sagging are corrected and the face feels so refreshed and smooth-like.

WANT REAL PARCELS POST.

As to some products of the farm, there is a difference of 30 to 50 per cent between the price that the grower receives and the price that the consumer pays. There are even cases in which this price difference amounts to 100 per cent. Part of the loss is due to a bad system of retail distribution in which a dozen city milk wagons travel over the same route, each delivering one bottle here and another there, when one wagon might as well make all the deliveries along the route. This same waste which appears even more markedly between the farm and the town. How many fully loaded wagons do you pass in driving to town? From a dozen farms a dozen packages of butter, poultry or vegetables may go to town the same morning, each in a different vehicle. Every day a dozen parcels of merchandise are hauled out of town along the same road in a dozen different conveyances, and the time and labor of eleven men and eleven horses go for nothing. The rural free delivery mail wagon now comes to your house with a load that you could put in a one or two bushel baskets, and it goes back to town with an even smaller load. Under present conditions, it looks as if the postoffice department was not giving the farmer his money's worth.—Sovereign Visitor.

EXODUS 32: 7-15.

And the Lord said unto Moses, Go, get thee down; for thy people which thou broughtest out of the land of Egypt, have corrupted themselves: They have turned aside quickly out of the way which I commanded them: they have made them a molten calf, and half worshipped it, and have sacrificed thereunto, and said, These be thy gods, O Israel, which have brought thee up out of the land of Egypt. And the Lord said unto Moses, I have seen this people, and, behold, it is a stiffnecked people: now therefore let me alone, that my wrath may wax hot against them and that I may consume them: and I will make of thee a great nation. And Moses besought the Lord his God and said, Lord, why doth thy wrath wax hot against thy people, which thou hast brought forth out of the land of Egypt with great lwer, and with a mighty hand?

Wherefore should the Egyptians speak, and say, For mischief did he bring them out, to slay them in the mountains, and to consume them from the face of he earth? Turn from thy fierce wrath, and repent of this evil against thy people.

Remember Abraham, Isaac, and Israel, thy servants, to whom thou swearest by thine own, and saidst unto them, I will multiply your seed as the stars of heaven, and all this land that I have spoken of will I give unto your seed, and they shall inherit it for ever.

And the Lord repented of the evil which he thought to do unto the people.

OUR LITTLE WORLD.

The railroad and the telegraph and the moving picture have abolished much space—annihilated much distance. Here is a story from the Cimmarron Jacksonian that shows what a small world we live in. The Jacksonian says:

"Last week Forrest Luther received a letter from his mother, who is staying with her daughters, in Boston, in which she described a peculiar experience which she and her daughters had.

"They were at a moving picture show, and the operator announced a picture from the Kansas State Fair, at Hutchinson, Kan. The film began to reel off and they saw the Dodge City Cowboy Band come down the street. At the very front, as large as life, was Frank Hopper, blowing away at his old tuba as if his life depended upon it. Immediately following him was another Cimmaronite, Lester Luther, with an alto horn, and bringing up the rear, playing a cornet, was Forrest Luther. After the band passed, Champ Clark came down the street in his auto. The auto pulled up at the curb and the occupants got out and walked around. One of them was 'Pa' Luther, who strolled around in front of the car as unconcernedly as peeling potatoes, and according to the letter, Lelah became so excited that she jumped up and said, "It's Papa," causing the audience to look around in astonishment. It goes to show that this world isn't so big after all, and it also shows the wonderful things science is bringing about these days, when actions can be reproduced 2,000 miles away and any number of times."—Emporia Gazette.

THE BEST KIND OF FARMER.

Doctor Bowsher, the celebrated psychologist, says that "all of the common sense we ever possess we acquire before we are fourteen years of age, after that the case is hopeless." We fight every innovation, every new idea, and clutch with a death-grasp the prejudices and the notions that we have acquired in youth. Death is the greatest deliverer, and Thomas Carlyle well said, "Death is the most joyfulest thing in life." Without death there could not possibly be any progress. There is only one cure for mental ankylosis, and that is the grave. Contumely, persecution, disgrace and death are the things required to set men free.

And so in these corn clubs, which mean practically a doubling of production per acre, the appeal has been made to the farm-boys, and so subtly and wisely and discreetly has the plan been carried out that the best farmers now are those who were inoculated with the bacillus of progress before they were fifteen.

I prophesy there will come a time when agriculture will be taught in every public school in America; but the lessons must come before the child is fifteen, if he is to be much benefited.

The farmer is the hope of the race.

The big men of the world, almost without exception, were country boys, and not man can be called an educated person who is not in partnership with Nature.

It is a great thing to have your head in the clouds, but it a finer thing to keep your feet firmly planted on the earth—The Fra.

From the Sunday School point of view, things are moving in Alabama. Progress is the word on the minds and hearts of the Sunday School people. "Something is doing" in this line of work in nearly every town, village and hamlet in the state. Recently institutes have been held at Tuscaloosa, Greensboro, Marion, Decatur, Selma, Anniston, Roanoke, Gadsden, Troy, Brewton, Bessemer, Montgomery, and a great number of smaller places. Institutes are being planed for Georgiana, Evergreen and county Convention at Mobile. All of these meetings are under the direction of the Alabama Sunday School Association, and one or more of the employed workers of that Association helped in each of the institutes referred to.

The State Convention at Selma, April 10th 11th and 12th, will be a record-breaker in many respects, is the belief of many leading Sunday School workers. This is to be the twenty-nineth annual convention of the State Association. About fifty people, will be on the program. Besides the State Speakers, who are men and women of the foremost thought in Sunday School work, Mr. Marion Lawrence, General secretary of the International Sunday School Association, is to speak several times. Prof. E. O. Excel and his pianist Mr. A. . Roper, of Chicago, are to have full charge of the music. The program committee is hoping to secure Rev. P. H. Welshelmer, of Canton, Ohio, who is said to be the foremost Sunday School pastor in America. The church of which he is pastor has a Sunday School that has made an unsurpassed record, and the religous papers which have had so much to say about the school insist on giving Mr. Welshelmer the credit.

On account of the state Convention at Selma, the railroads of the State have granted a rate which is practically half fare plus 25 cents, from all parts of th state. The Selma people are determined to give the State Convention on a royal welcome. Mr. S. F. Hobbs, a prominent business and church man of Selma, is Chairman of the General Committee on Arrangements. The Sunday School workers of several towns are looking into the advisability of running special trains to Selma on account of the Convention. It is practically settled that there will be an Anniston-Talladega special. The business men of these two towns have agreed to stand behind proposition and become responsible to the railroad company for any deficit should the number of delegates from these two towns fail to make the special train a paying proposition for the railroad.

WHEN WE PRAY.

By Graham Hood

A reader of this paper has written to ask me if "God helps us in temporal things as well as in spiritual affairs?" While there are other questions in his letter that cannot be answered here, I see no reasons why we should have the slightest doubt in regard to this matter. If we admit that there is a God who cares for and watches over us, what right have we to put any restrictions upon His omnipotence?

If I read the New Testament correctly, there is no place where we are told that we must pray only for spiritual blessings and that the gifts that we call "temporal" will be denied us, even though we are to ask for them. Instead we are repeatedly told that we have but to ask in the right spirit to have our requests granted. Christ Himself taught us to pray to our Father for "our daily bread," and certainly this did not imply that we should express a desire for spiritual aid alone.

Of course, in turning to God as the Father, it is but right that we should give to Him the same power of discretion—and to an infinitely greater degree—that we are accustomed to admit in the case of our earthly father. Because the child goes to his father with a request it does not necessarily follow that the wish must be granted. So far as the child himself is concerned, he may see no just reason why the request should be denied, yet, as any father will admit, there may be very good reasons for not granting it.

If such conditions arise in our natural relations, why should they not exist in our supernatural relations? Many a person has prayed for things that, at the time, seemed necessary, only to discover—after the lapse of a comparatively brief space of time that the apparent "blessing" would actually have been a grat evil, and that the fact that the requqest was not granted was the amazing blessing, after all.

Such things have happened to all who pray, and that is the reason why we have been taught to say: "Not my will but Thine be done." And this does not mean that we are afarid to ask ofr the things we want, it merely implies that we recognize that Infinite Intelligence is a better judge of our real needs than finite intelligence can ever hope to be.

Are prayers answered?—even prayers for temporal things? Ask any man or woman who prays, and you will have an answer so positive that you will be astonished at the faith displayed. That this testimony would convince the doubter as to the efficacy of prayer is quite another after. Men know in their hearts that certain things are true, when they would be unable to prove them true were the inspection to be by the cold analysis of reason. But what of that? There are plenty of things in life—things we know to be true—that cannot be demonstrated positively. The efficacy of prayer is one of them. The religious minded however, knows that the matter has been settled for all time—he has known his prayers to be answered, not once, but on many occasions, and knowing this, he needs no further argument to convince him.

[A]YER'S BODY FOUND WITH THROAT CUT

[T]WO MEN ARE HELD AS SUSPECTS FOR THE CORONER'S INVESTIGATION

Russellville, Ala., Feb. 8.—The searching party hunting for John Ayers body found it this afternoon in Bear river about a half a mile from where he was supposed to have met his death. His throat was cut but no other wounds were on his body.

Jesse Edgar's bloody knife was found on the trail leading to the creek. Ayers bloody hat and handkerchief were found also along the trail. Edgar and Tar, the men accused of the murder, were carried to Tuscumbia jail this morning. They will be brought back tomorrow for coroner's inquest.

The officers came in this morning from the Hodges neighborhood bringing two men, Jesse Edgar and W. M. Tar, suspected of having murdered John Ayers, who disappeared from Hodges Saturday evening. Edgar claims that the three left Hodges in a buggy together, Edgar's buggy and Tar's team. Ayers had departed to go home with Edgar. All were drinking more or less.

Before they crossed the creek about a mile from Hodges, Ayers and Tar had a row and got out. Edgar laughed at them, he says, and they got back in the buggy.

Two or three miles further on they got out again. Tar seemed to be cutting at Ayers, he says. It was dark and Tar and Ayers both disappeared in the darkness. Tar came back and got in the buggy and drove it up the road. Edgar called for Ayers but got no response, he says. He followed the buggy about three quarters of a mile and found it hitched up on the side of the road. He and Tar then came on home, where he had been since.

Tar tells nearly the story Edgar [illegible] except he saw Edgar cutting at Ayers [a]nd Edgar described him.

NAGAL GETS JOB, HOOK GETS HOOK

Washington, Feb. 8.—The existing vacancy on the Supreme Court bench, the fifth that has occurred in the present administration, probably will be filled by the appointment of Secretary of Commerce and Labor Charles Nagel of St. Louis.

President Taft is expected to send the nomination of Mr. Nagel to the Senate within a few days. United States Judge William C. Hook of Kansas, who until yesterday was most prominently mentioned for the vacancy, is said to have been eliminated from further consideration at an hour's session of the cabinet. All of the lawyers in the cabinet except Mr. Nagel were present and afterwards it was learned the President had made clear his intention of appointing his secretary of commerce and labor.

This report was so generally credited last night that rumor was busy with a possible successor of Mr. Nagel in the cabinet. Louis Marshall of New York and Julius Rosenwald of Chicago were mentioned among those who would be considered.

Judge Hook's name was scratched from the President's list almost at the eleventh hour. This action was said to be due to his opinions in a Jim crow law decision in an Oklahoma railroad case. Both the President and Attorney General Wickersham are understood to hold the opinion that Judge Hook went too far in this case, and Secretary of State Knox, Secretary of War Stimson and Secretary of Interior Fisher, other lawyers present at the cabinet meeting, evidently agreed.

Secretary Nagel had been mentioned among those whom the President was considering for the Supreme Court place ever since Justice Harlan's death last fall. Attorney General Wickersham and Postmaster General Hitchcock are both known strongly to have urged his appointment. Mr. Taft's only objection to the appointment has been the fact that Mr. Nagel is 6[illegible] years old and although a lawyer of wide practice has had no judicial experience.

"SOO" CANAL BUSY

15,368 Vessels Passed Through Channel in 1911.

Handling of Large Number of Craft Accomplished Without a Blockade, Says Commandant—Three Times Suez Record

Washington.—During the navigation season of 1911 vessels to the number of 15,368 passed through the St. Marys river channel which connects Lake Superior and Lake Huron, according to Lieut. Philip H. Scott, commanding the revenue cutter Mackinac, in charge of the patrol of St. Marys river, in his report to Commissioner Chamberlain of the bureau of navigation, department of commerce and labor.

This is a larger transit of large steamers than on any other water of the United States and more than three times 4,533, which is the number of passages through the Suez canal in 1910.

The daily average number of vessels recorded at Lookout Station No. ... which is located just below Sault Ste. Marie, at the entrance to Hay Lake channel, was 72, or at the rate of one boat every 20 minutes. The week ended August 5 showed the greatest daily average for any week during the year, namely 86 vessels, and the greatest number recorded in any one day was 105, on August 24.

The passage of this large number of craft was accomplished without any congestion approaching a blockade, and while there were a number of minor accidents only one was due to violation of the navigation laws. The channels were open at all times and no obstructions to navigation occurred other than due to fogs.

St. Marys river marks the boundary line between the United States and Canada at the northern extremity of Michigan. It divides at Sault Ste. Marie falls and two canals make navigation possible at this point—one on the American side equipped with two masonry locks, and the other on the Canadian side, with one masonry lock.

The Hay lake route, being a comparatively straight cut, can be navigated with reasonable safety at night, and it is well defined by many lights and buoys in charge of the bureau of lighthouses. Both the Hay lake and Lake George routes are open to either American or Canadian ships, free of toll.

This channel forms the natural outlet for the vessels carrying manufacturing, mining and agricultural products from the shore cities on Lake Superior, especially Detroit and Duluth, and while freight steamers comprise the largest number of ships plying these waters, passenger steamers also form a considerable part of the heavy traffic. Lieut. William J. Wheeler, U. S. R. C. S., will succeed Lieutenant Scott next season.

TRAP HELD DOG AND MINK

Koch's Probar of New Rochelle, Strung Up by Leg, Clung to Fighting Prey.

New York.—When Charles Koch, trapper, of New Rochelle visited his traps he found his black and tan terrier, Probar, strung up by one hind leg in a noose to a sapling which had been used as a mink trap and holding a large mink by the tail.

The dog was bleeding from wounds inflicted by the mink's claws and teeth. Both Probar and the mink, which measured 36 inches, were nearly exhausted. Caught in other traps were three smaller mink that it is supposed had been attracted by the fight between dog and mink and had gone to help their comrade.

Probar, who had accompanied his master from his home, 7 Orchard street, every day for nine years, had preceded him to the traps and caught the largest mink seen near New Rochelle in several years.

ARMY POST IS CUPID'S ENEMY

Buildings in Hawaii Will Be Built by Government to Discourage Matrimony

Washington, D. C.—Plans approved at the war department for the construction at Fort Schofield, Hawaii, of what will be the most economical army post ever erected. The plans embody the ideas of General Wood. The new barracks will be in the form of a horseshoe, with a double line of buildings for officers in the center of the horseshoe. Double houses will be built so arranged as to accommodate three or four bachelor officers each.

It is intended to discourage early marriages among the officers by providing quarters adequate and comfortable but not liberal enough to form an inducement to matrimony and additional expense to the government.

MAKES EX-WIFE AN EMPLOYE

After Divorce Woman Is Housekeeper, Then Sues Former Husband for $200 Wages

Duluth, Minn.—Two hundred dollars as wages for ten months' service as housekeeper is what Mrs. Jacob Stubler asks the court to compel her former husband to give her. Mrs. Stubler got a divorce and $50 a month alimony. Then, according to her complaint, her ex-husband hired her as housekeeper at $20 a month. She says Stubler refuses to pay her.

Putting ground feed in the calves' milk is not the best way. A little box with dry feed kept before them all the time is the better plan.

When hogs lay and shelled corn it is a good indication that they are feeding too much corn. Change the ration and feed more green food, such as beets and cabbage.

There is no better germ slayer than an ounce of carbolic acid added to a pail of whitewash. Give the walls and ceiling of the henhouse a good coating, working it well into the cracks and crevices.

Carry a warm blanket with you every time you drive away from the farm. You may intend to come right home without hitching, but you can never foresee the delays that may compel you to hitch your horse in the open.

Get the habit of hauling manure to the field every day as it is taken from the barn. The sooner manure is spread in the field the smaller the loss of fertility incurred and the smaller the amount of labor required to handle it.

A thimble carrying a knife blade on the end has been patented by a California man to aid in picking fruit.

Almost every wrong act of the horse is caused by the excitement or mismanagement, said a great horseman.

Clover or alfalfa hay, with a light ration of wheat bran and linseed meal and roots, is the ideal ration for the horse.

The individuality of each horse should be studied and the feeds supplied to meet individual requirements.

If there is any one thing in the way of feed that will bring winter eggs more than another it is a little green stuff.

It takes a lot of water to satisfy a cow even in winter, and it is only when the chill is taken off that she will drink enough.

A reader says she has broken the egg-eating habit in hens by putting a tablespoonful of vinegar in each gallon of drinking water.

Cecilton Md—Mr George Richards, of this place during the past 12 years, has probably tried more different diets than the average person would ever use in a lifetime

What he has to say about his experiments must therefore be highly interesting to anyone suffering from indigestion or stomach troubles of any kind

He says "For more than 12 years, I suffered with stomach troubles and paid hundreds of dollars for doctor bills and medicines I was also operated on for piles

I lived on dried peaches and buttermilk for nearly three years The only thing that would not give me pain was raw eggs

I was a physical wreck I could not sleep and was as near crazy as a man could well be

I must say that after taking two 25-cent packages of Thedford's Black Draught, it did me more good than all I ever spent for other medicines

I have been working daily on the farm ever since and I am as hard as iron"

PROPER PROTECTION AGAINST RAVAGES OF PREDATORY DOGS

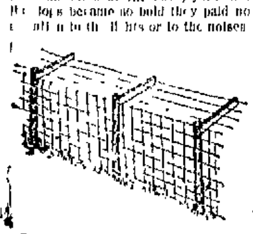

Most Successful Plan Is to Build Yard of Boards, Leaving No Cracks on Outside of Fence—Partition Is So Constructed That Animals May Jump In, But Cannot Get Out.

Novel Dog Proof Fold—The Inclosure at the End Allows the Dog to Jump In and There He Remains.

... ... the ... ... will at some time ... ... worrying by dogs ... ... nervous ... ... that they seldom prove profitable. In most states there are laws ... depredation by dogs but ... their construction ... ... dead letters, writes ... in the Country Gentleman.

I have ... since ... to ... the law for ... ... of protecting my sheep in my own way. My first precaution was to provide plenty of bells—as many as one to every six or ten ... When the sheep were unduly excited the bells made such a noise that they ... frighten some dogs, and would ... least arouse sleepers to look after the flock. Finding that this did not ... satisfactorily, however ... turns out near the sheep yard ... dogs became so bold they paid no ... to ... bells or to the noises.

Detail Construction of Dog Proof Fence.

My next plan was a most successful one. Attached to the sheep barn a sheep yard was constructed of boards leaving no cracks on the outside fences. The partition between this yard and another adjoining was a ... fence with cracks not more than three inches wide. On the outside of the sheep yard were dog guards which prevented a dog from jumping over into the yard. The partition fence at so had guards so that a dog could not jump over from the adjoining lot. This yard also had the guards ... but they ... on the inside so that once he had gained ... he could not get out. The fence inclosing this yard was constructed of woven wire with the dog guard made of smooth wire. I soon found that dogs would jump into the ... lot to get into the sheep yard, but when they had gained entrance to the inclosure they had gone to their destruction. The next morning all I had to do was to go down and gather in the depredators and give them burial. I dare say that ... more dogs buried on them than any ... territory in the Union. I found that the dogs would easily gain access to the yard intended for ... but I never had one get into the ... if the dog guards were placed correctly. The dog guards are made by nailing arms on the top of the posts extending outward and upward at an angle of about ... Inches and ... on the top of these arms are nailed four or five ... barbed wire. These provide a barrier that a dog cannot scale.

I have been informed that it is unlawful to kill my neighbors dogs, but when I find a dog in my sheep pasture or on my premises I take the privilege of killing him for fear he might ... Notwithstanding that it is unlawful to put out poison I have ... a good deal of this. I have never put out any poison for dogs, however, always being careful to ... except for wolves. If a dog gets the wolf poison I cannot help it. When I put out poison I always notify my neighbors that I have done so and advise them to keep their dogs locked up. I use strychnine—enough to kill a dog and no more. The poison is wrapped in a small piece of tissue paper so that it will not permeate the bait and make it bitter. When it is put in ... of a sheep several places ... and after one ... the carcass is buried down below the reach of hogs or anything else. I have gathered in many dogs with poison that was put out for wolves.

There is another method that I have found to be of some value in getting rid of dogs, but it is not to be recommended, since it is against the laws laid down by the humane society. It consists in saturating with lard a sponge about as large as a dog can swallow. When digestion takes place the grease is digested and the sponge swells up on the liquids of the stomach and can neither pass out nor be digested. The dog goes places away and dies. No poison has been administered, for lard and sponges are not poisonous.

I am a firm believer in the justice of the sheep owners taking this matter into his own hands but keeping still about it, for if he is to keep on the good side of his neighbors he must never tell ... if he had been the means of killing the dogs. As a rule, however, a ... that when his dog ... ... and is ... has got no less than ... ...

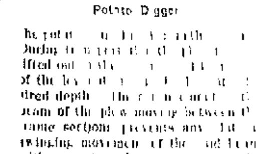

I advise all sheepmen to protect themselves against the ravages of predatory dogs. I have found that legislators avoid this question for there are more voters who own dogs than voters who own sheep. A dog that is not kept busy will get into mischief no matter how well he is bred. Some of the worst dogs I have ever caught are those called hunting dogs. They are sagacious and when not kept busy hunting have to work off surplus energy by chasing sheep. The sheep herd dog that is ... on a sheep farm seldom gets into trouble, but if he is reared ... and is not made acquainted with sheep he is liable to get into mischief if not kept under proper restraint. Sheep should be kept corralled at night, thereby removing one of the dangers that are liable to come to a flock. Daytime depredations are ... unless ... sheep pasture is ... outlying one.

To Owners and Prospective Owners -of- Overland Motor Cars

No Motor Car is so perfect but that it will occasionally need repair parts. To prevent the annoyance and unnecessary delay of having a repair part shipped from the factory, we have placed in stock a full line of OVFRLAND parts and expect at all times to keep a good supply on hand.

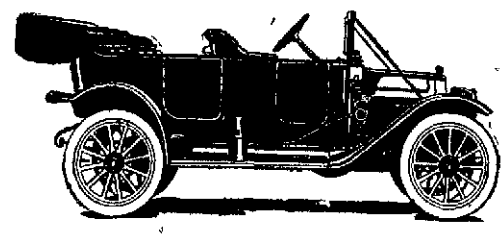

All Sub-Dealers and Owners can order parts of us and save the excessive express or freight charges, as well as a considerable delay experienced by ordering from the factory.

You will find the OVERLAND people to be unusually reasonable on prices of repair parts

[..]DS VALUED WORKS TO U. S.

[..],000 Hoentschel Collection of Curios to Be Taken to New York by Morgan.

[P]aris.—The World's Paris bureau [is i]nformed that J. P. Morgan has de[cide]d to take back with him to Amer[ica] the Hoentschel collection of [Gothic] works and enamels bought the other day by the financier at an [esti]mated cost of $2,000,000. The col[lect]ion, which includes some of the [most] valuable ivory carvings in the [worl]d, is still in the home of the for[mer] owner in Paris.

[Alt]hough Mr. Morgan is said to have [decl]ared, while here, his intention to [all]ow eventually all of his principal treasures to the United States [fro]m London and Paris, his friends [say] he is not likely to strip his houses [in L]ondon of their magnificent adorn[men]ts, considered finer than in any [oth]er home in Europe. Ultimately [man]y of the finest of the Morgan [trea]sures will find their way to the [Met]ropolitan Museum of Art.

[W]hen he came to Paris from New [Yor]k Mr. Morgan was accompanied [by] Dr. Francis P. Kinnicutt of New [Yor]k and this fact gives rise anew [to t]he query: Is Mr. Morgan in good [hea]lth, and is he thinking of retiring [from] business? Apparently he was in [goo]d health while here and he got [arou]nd in lively fashion.

[F]urther comment was caused by [the] action of the French government [in s]ending two detectives with the [fina]ncier when he crossed the channel [on] his way to London.

[FO]RETELLS DEATH OF MANY

[Ten]nessee Seer Predicts Volcanic [E]ruption in Pennsylvania That Will Rival That of Martinique.

[C]hattanooga, Tenn.—The Rev. [Th]omas Clark, a picturesque charac[ter] who for years has wandered in the [mou]ntains of eastern Tennessee and [sou]thwest Virginia, styling himself "Prophet of the Smokies," de[clar]es that he has just had a vision [in w]hich it was revealed to him by [a d]ivine messenger that during the [pres]ent year, 1912, a volcanic eruption [equ]al to that of Martinique or Vesu[vius] will take place in the state of [Penn]sylvania, and that nearly 900,000 [soul]s will be plunged into eternity [with]out a moment's warning. He as[sert]s he foretold the assassination of [Pre]sident McKinley, the fire at Bal[tim]ore and the San Francisco earth[qua]ke.

["S]leepy Tom," as he is called by [man]y, travels about the country with [no] fixed place of residence, and often [slee]ps in his buggy, drawn by an ill [fed] horse. The vehicle is plastered [with] quotations from the bible. He [ask]s nothing, nor does he beg.

[H]e has a circuit, which he gets [over] about every three months, and [at a] time he stops with a different [fami]ly. He does not wait upon the [form]ality of an invitation, but just [driv]es up, unhitches his horse, unties his dog from the rear of his vehicle and walks in.

SPLICE MAN'S SPINAL CORD

Surgeons Accomplish Delicate Operation at Far Rockaway on Bullet Victim.

New York.—James Renbula, nineteen, is in St. Joseph's hospital, Far Rockaway, having survived a very rare and dangerous surgical operation. A bullet which broke two of his vertebrae also severed his spinal cord. Dr. William L. Mulcahy, assisted by Dr. B. F. Thomas, house physician and surgeon, and Dr. Salzer, a former interne, have spliced the ends of the cord. They said that, thanks to his strong physique, Renzula may live for years, although he will always be paralyzed from the waist down.

Renzula was shot by Joseph Fucci in Fucci's grocery store at Inwood, L. I. Fucci, arrested, said two men entered and he thought he recognized one of them as a relative of a "blackhander" he had sent to prison. So he opened fire, dangerously wounding both.

Dr. Mulcahy and his assistants tried to draw together the end of Renzula's spinal cord and stitch them, but they could not do so exactly. So they drew the ends as closely as possible and fixed them in place by suturing them in the spinal canal.

GIVES YOUTH $15,000 A YEAR

New York Supreme Court Raises Income, Although Father's Will Fixed It at $3,000.

New York.—J. Arthur Hinckley, five years old, had his income raised from $3,000 a year to $15,000 by the supreme court. The order was made on application of the lad's mother, widow of J. Arthur Hinckley, a wealthy yachtsman who died in Paris two years ago. Mr. Hinckley left an estate of $2,000,000, providing in his will that his son should receive only $3,000 a year until he was twenty-one.

SNOW TAMES GAME BIRDS

Connecticut Farmers Find Quail and Other Wild Fowl Roosting Among Hens.

Plainfield, Conn.—Owing to the heavy fall of snow thousands of quail, bluejays and other wild birds are driven to the shelter of barnyards.

In Canterbury a farmer went out to feed his hens and found a dozen quail roosting among them. The game wardens and assistants are building bush and feed shelters for them.

Teacher Begins 101st Term.

Ledyard, Conn.—Thomas Latham has begun his 101st term as a teacher in the public schools of Ledyard, Conn., and walks several miles daily to and from the school. He is now teaching the grandchildren of some of his earlier pupils.

ORDERS SON TO KILL SELF

Mother's Sorrow for Boy's Misdeeds Is Responsible for Attempted Suicide.

Budapest.—The sorrow of a mother for the misdeeds of her son led her to order him to commit suicide. The son, Zoltan Rybiczky, is alleged to have been concerned in bank frauds involving over $50,000.

Before his arrest, he made an attempt on his life at the command of his mother, who had learned of the frauds. The woman caused a younger son to buy a revolver and hand it to Zoltan with the remark: "You must die in order to make your family happy."

The mother went into the room and waited to see her son shoot himself. He did so but the wound was not serious and he is now recovering in the infirmary and is said to have confessed.

FILES QUEER EXPENSE BILL

Candidate Pays 85 Cents to Repair His Gum Shoes—Total Expenditure Was $10.37.

Springfield, Mass.—Such unusual items of campaign expenditure as shoe repairing and cost of canvas gloves are included in the statement filed with the county clerk by Councilman John J. Walsh of this city, who squeezed into office a few days ago by a plurality of 32 votes. His total expenditure was $10.20, and the items are dignified by a big letter caption: "How I Did It."

He began with a contribution of $5 to the Republican city committee, and later spent $4.75 for advertising. The remainder is accounted for as follows:

"Paid ten cents for canvas gloves to protect my hands while knocking on doors, seeking votes.

"Paid 85 cents for repairs to footwear used in gum-shoe campaign."

100 TO MOTHER ONE BABY

What New York High School Girls Taking Course in Housekeeping Will Do.

New York.—One hundred girl students in the Wadleigh high school here who are taking a course in house keeping will adopt a baby and care for the child as a part of the work of the course. The pupils will take turns in washing and dressing the infant, feeding it, singing it to sleep and wheeling it in its gocart.

A special committee selected by the class has picked out a baby from a number of foundlings offered by the State Charities Aid association. The students are now making preparations for a "naming party," to be given in its honor. The name will be selected by vote.

The Original Blue Ribbon Stalk Cutter

We intend tha there is not a better Stalk Cutter made than the "BLUE RIBBON" single row. It is throughly and perfectly balanced, there being no weight on the horses' necks when it is in use.

THE KNIVES are of the best tool steel; they will carry a good edge and give satisfaction.

THE STROKE is a chop, which is acknowledged to be the only way to successfully cut stalks.

THE FRAME is all steel.

THE WHEELS are steel, and high, making light draft. They also have adjustable dust proof boxes.

We have a DRAFT EQUALIZING SPRING; the pull comes on this so there is no jerk caused by the striking motion of the cylinder.

THE HOOKS for raking the stalk in line are made of spring steel, and raise automatically every time the cylinder does.

ANY TENSION DESIRED can be given to force cylinder down, by collar or by raising lever rod.

THE CYLINDER BEARINGS are well protected from dirt, dust, etc., by adjustable boxes and bands.

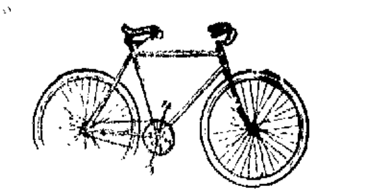

THE HEADS made with nine knives.
